

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

Please direct all inquiries to info@strawshop.org

Strawberry Theatre Workshop is seeking submissions to the 2022 Strawberry Jam, a directors' festival of live performance, running at 12th Ave Arts in Seattle, June 9- July 9, 2022.

Applicants should be directors who are creating work on the theme: "Make America _____."

Pieces chosen for the festival will...

- Be given at least two (2) opportunities to perform in repertory during the opening three weeks of the event, June 9- July 2.
- Be judged by a jury to present again during the final weekend, July 7-9.
- Be paid an honorarium ranging from $630-1080, based on the scope of the project.

Successful proposals will...

- Include a short essay on how the production speaks to the theme "Make America _____."
- Anticipate a final run time of 75 minutes or less.
- Include biographies/work samples of the principal artists.
- Sketch a schedule for finishing the work in time for a debut in June 2022.

Productions...

- Do not have to be premieres.
- Do not have to include original material—rights and royalties are the sole responsibility of the applicant.
- Must be able to be realized (as defined by the director) with neutral technical elements shared by multiple productions, with easy changes.

Strawberry Theatre Workshop will provide...

- Honoraria.
- Stage management, lighting, and sound design for the festival stage.
- Repertory masking and seating for 75-90 patrons.
- Dressing room and green room.
- Press relations, marketing, and box office.

Key criteria for selection...

- Work relevance to the theme "Make America _____."
- Apparent ability by the applicant to successfully finish the project.

The festival lineup is curated by a selection committee of peer artists who is yet to be announced. In addition, the process for juried selection for the final "Best of Fest" weekend remains in development. Curators/jurors will be transparent and publicly announced before the application deadline.

Additional information on the 2022 Strawberry Jam, including parameters and schedule, will be routinely updated at strawshop.org.
